Our Objectives

A school is a community providing educating experiences for students and for those who teach them. For students, the experiences are not only those of the classroom under the guidance of the instructor, but they include all the related activities in which students work with their contemporaries, often without the presence of any adult. In the give and take of that world of young people, absorbed in some project of their own choosing, the truth of Emerson's words is illustrated year after year, for "personal force never goes out of fashion."

And to a large degree, the experience of the teacher, too, must be a dual one. He must bring to the classroom the knowledge he possesses — he should be continually adding to that knowledge — and by his enthusiasm he must be able to convince students of the value and importance of the subject they are studying. He must sell his subject, and sell it often to a group with widely varying mentality and cultural background. He must study the members of his group if he is to help them to acquire the best in the American tradition — minds open to the new, but never accepting it uncritically just because it is new; respect for the individual, and especially that intangible feeling that rights are less important than responsibilities.

To help them all to develop to capacity physically, mentally, socially is a task worthy of a modern Hercules, but it is this task to which all teachers should be dedicated.

Good luck in all you do in the future

DR. BERNHARD C. KORN, Principal

ADMINISTRATION

MR. DONDLINGER, Vice-Principal

Most of the students who enrolled as high school freshmen in January or September, 1950, were not newcomers entirely unfamiliar with Bay View. Many of them had seen copies of the Oracle newspaper and had made a trip as visitors to their chosen high school. And they had had, too, a more direct contact with the school. They had met the counselor who was to be their guide through the next four years and had planned with that counselor, with their eighth grade teacher and often with their parents, all meeting together, the course they were to follow through high school. The plans of eighth graders would naturally be subject to many changes, but always those changes were considered with reference to the entire course the student chose to follow and always approved by parents and counselors.

After students are enrolled at Bay View they are entrusted to the direction of homeroom teachers. With these teachers, students begin every school day, and to them they return every night. All through the four years, their programs, their troubles, and their successes are the primary concern of the homeroom teacher.

This year there has been an extensive vocational program at Bay View, community wide in scope. Many who came to help in the program included graduates now in the professions, parents of Bay View students, parents who are in business in the community, as well as people who came from outside the city, such as a master plumber from Beloit and the auto service supervisor for the entire state. There were some sixty guest speakers who came for the Wednesday afternoon programs and spoke to all interested upperclassmen. Many of them, too, stayed long after the close of school to answer the questions of their audience.

MR. WILEY, Counselor Chairman

Almost weekly there have been invitations extended to students to visit colleges, hospitals, and industry. These field trips are open to juniors and seniors. On Institute Day, May 6, approximately fifty Bay View seniors, in visits arranged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, covered the entire field of job opportunities in business and industry. Some fifty girls, interested in nursing as a profession, made visits to the hospitals of their choice.

Other field trips were arranged by the Service League for all freshmen and sophomores who were taken to see the Milwaukee Stadium, the Washington Park Zoo, the Municipal Airport, and the Botanical Gardens.

MISS STATZ, Dean of Girls

Mr. May, Miss Steel, Miss Lane, Mr. Suttle.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Eight years ago the Student Government Association emerged from what the war years had organized as the Victory Corps. Much has been accomplished since that time. The spirit of cooperation among students has been growing, the aim being to develop good citizenship and to show definite disapproval of and take action against what is harmful to both the individual and the group. Much of the work is done in committees, such as social, corridor, dance, automobile registration, study hall, building hosts, and court assistants.

The assembly meetings are of greatest interest when a committee is able to present a complete report and suggest possibilities for action. Research on problems, interviews with the administrative staff and with members of the school and civic community are part of each committee's daily work and result in real maturity of judgment on the part of those having the experience.

Quite apart from the serious procedures in 1953-'54 were the Homecoming Dance, which broke all attendance records; and the May Dance, "Star Dreams," listed as one of the gayest events of the school year.

ACTIVITIES

Robert Lesniewski, Editor-in-Chief

The production of the 1954 Annual began early last September with the appointment of a staff, composed in large part of students who had worked on the 1953 Oracle. The subscription manager, trained for the job, handled the business side of the selling campaign, and as usual there were speeches by members of the staff and skits written and produced by students in the English classes.

After the layouts were submitted by the art editors, the editorial staff took over the ever present task of taking pictures. The senior editors collected the biographical information for the section devoted to the January graduates, and the Activities editor obtained the pictures of all midyear graduates in extracurricular positions. Always the pages had to be planned by the art editors and the pictures cut to scale by the editor and the school life editor.

The preparation of the copy for the entire book was no small task and involved countless checkings of registration files in an effort to achieve accuracy of spelling. Thanks are due to the many typists who helped with the Oracle, and especially to the students in Mr. Wiley's third hour typing class.

THE NEWSPAPER

Carla Engel, Donald Tuler

To write for the school paper and become a star reporter or even an editor is the goal of many ambitious freshmen when they enter Bay View. Some of the ambitious new-comers to the staff have developed a taste for newsprint in their experiences on grade school publications. Some develop a "nose for news" and the skills in writing by attending weekly beginner classes after school, and others discover their writing talents in English or special writing classes.

When these students have mastered the techniques of writing, they take small news or feature assignments, getting their first big thrill when they have had ten inches published and they are listed in the masthead as "cub" reporter. After the first hurdle is past, the students find themselves getting more and bigger assignments. They are thrilled again when their name appears in a by-line after they have written their first lead story.

Another promotion follows. Now it's star reporter, with fifty printed inches to their credit. From this time on their names may come up any time for an editor's job, provided they have served faithfully and productively.

Editors at last, they have reached their goal. Now they begin to take more responsibilities, aiming to keep Bay View interested in its school life and directing the editorial policy which strengthens the moral fiber and intellectual curiosity of the many readers.

When boys meet without feminine distraction, they get things done! Boys' Club, when minus social obligations and the fair sex, really believes in service. This year the Civil Defense Crew subdivided into First Aid Crew, Air Raid Wardens, and Disaster Crew, preparing fully for possible air raids The Fire Wardens took over supervision of all fire drills, and the Flag Crew (or Flag "Staff" as they prefer to be called) saw to it that Old Glory was displayed and retired daily with fitting military etiquette.

Aside from special all-school services, Boys' Club promoted publicity for all athletic activities, trained cheer leaders for public athletic contests, and sponsored intra-mural basketball for all those on the Varsity Team.

GIRLS' CLUB

This year Girls' Club included nine hundred members. This large membership presented a real challenge, namely that of trying to give each girl some voice and representation in her club. To meet this problem the members organized a Girls' Club Board, which consisted of the officers and a representative from each homeroom. It was the duty of the Board to act as an intermediary, to take the discussion problems from the Board to the homeroom, and to return with the various opinions. This procedure brought good results and made nominees for office and for committees aware of their duties before they were elected.

During the year many girls took part in the various activities: seventy-five on the Board, sixty on active committees, and one hundred twenty in auditorium programs.

Dian Fonteine, Miss Miller, Jean Abbott

"Good will" and "understanding!" These are the by-words around which Foreign Language Club centered its wheel of activity which never once ceased revolving in either sectional or general meetings. The avid interest of some three-hundred members assured both the popularity and success of the club. The added presence of Nils Holme, an exchange student from Norway, definitely increased club interest and gave the members a better understanding of life in a foreign land.

The Foreign Language Club sponsored two all-school color films and lectures: "Argentina" by Nicol Smith, and "Spain" by Clifford Kamen. Both provided a good idea of these lands and their people. Each proved its popularity by a sell-out auditorium.

The annual club banquet once more proved itself a success as one-hundred members enjoyed a dinner together and listened attentively to Fuad Iran, an exchange student from Jerusalem, who spoke on Christmas customs in his homeland.

To emphasize international cooperation and understanding, Round Table continued financial help to Spyridoula Theodarow, a young Greek girl whom Round Table began sponsoring in 1953. The club included a CARE parcel at Christmas.

Homecoming fans saw Round Table win first place honors with a float depicting a dragon and carrying the king and queen who portrayed people of Medieval times. As a film attraction for the year, Round Table sponsored "The Fortunes of Captain Blood" on December 11, an all-school program enjoyed by several hundred students. Christmas brought the traditional carols and a play, "Reindeer on the Roof."

In the spring two current-events panels were presented: "Should eighteen-year-olds vote?" and "McCarthyism, an Aid or a Threat?" Music was also considered on the program for the year. One meeting concerned an appreciation of the music of Stephen Foster; another, "America's Musical Heritage."

The Science Club, consisting of six sections, met bi-weekly to gain skill in their field and solve unusual problems which had developed in class.

The chemistry section worked on laboratory organization and made laboratory equipment. They also made many products such as hand lotion and tooth paste. The general science section visited the Lakeside power plant. The projection crew presented the noon-hour movies, travelogues, and class films, and instructed incoming projectionists on the operation of the machines. The gardeners and naturalists furthered experiments and acquainted the students with laboratory apparatus.

"Animals at Home," an all-school movie and lecture, was sponsored by Science Club on April 15. In this film small creatures were discussed, and Roy Ivor's Songbird Observatory was visited.

OFFICERS SEMESTER I

Leonore Oettmeier, President; Louanne Strobush, Recorder; Yvonne Staven, S.G.A. Representative; Judy Arnet, Vice-president; Anita Nelson, Scribe

It is the main function of X Club, whose members must have a ninety average in each subject, to help prepare students properly and efficiently for their education in colleges and universities throughout the nation. For this reason, requirements necessary for scholarships, such as high scholastic averages, extra-curricular activities, personality, and financial need, were the primary topics for discussion.

A special group of seniors who have maintained an exceptionally high average during their three and one-half years at high school obtained permanent membership in the Honor Society. At commencement each newly-chosen member is awarded a certificate which states, "The Bay View High School Honor Society hereby admits (name), whose excellent high school record gives evidence of that intellectual curiosity, steadfast purpose, and self discipline required for true learning."

LIBRARY GUILD

The main objective of the Library Guild is to be of immediate service to the school. Numbering well over seventy students, a large number for a club of this type, the members were busy daily.

Among the activities of the Library Guild were field trips to the Milwaukee Journal, the new Marquette Memorial Library, and to the University of Wisconsin in Madison. Talks were given by the officers to freshmen and transferred students concerning library procedure; and the annually observed book week, made festive by a circus theme, alerted students to new books and awarded prizes to those who knew the contents of the contest books.

The Guild also helped to develop the Student Library Assistants of Milwaukee, an organization to which the public high schools each send two representatives.

RADIO CREW

The radio and projection crews gave service ten hours of the day every day of the school year. Headed by Dave Knight, the radio crew saw to it that morning and afternoon broadcasts were heard in each homeroom and that proper amplification was provided for stage presentations and convocations.

Jim Janza, top man on the projection crew, and his staff of over fifty provided the teaching staff with projectors, projectionists, and films, and also provided the lunch-hour movies and eighth-hour film entertainment.

Working along with the radio crew were John Picchiottino and Dick Kraft, announcers who kept the school up-to-date on daily activities. The password around the booth was "Chop chop" — English translation, "Hurry!"

The stage crew required extra competency as the boys went into action for performances that made unusual demands. The operetta "Where's Charley?" took the crew to the Vocational School to engineer the presentation of the Broadway comedy to the secondary school principals of the nation in convention in Milwaukee in February.

The "prop" crew did a wide range of research, namely securing items of Norwegian "flavor" for the class play and keeping alerted for articles that could help produce a Broadway hit.

With carbon-arc spotlights and black light, the lighting crew brought all stage shows into focus.

ART CLUB

Throughout 1953-'54 the turpentine-pungent air of Room 121 echoed with the sounds of hammers, shears, or saws. For it was here that almost all the scenery was constructed for the class play and operetta, that displays were created for bulletin boards, and that young Rembrandts and Renoirs enjoyed the pleasant tasks of wielding pencil and brush to design their own inspiration.

Art Club also brought a full-length movie to the students, prepared publicity for everything from eighth-hour lectures to football games, designed this Annual, and with funds gathered from dues and other sources bought two famous originals to grace the corridors of Bay View: "Milwaukee River Scene" by Jerry Landt and "Fourth Street Progress" by Mel Kishner.

KONING'S CREW

Once again the Usher Corps has provided the class play, music festival, operetta, convocations, guidance programs, and commencement with colorful and dignified seating service.

The school was greatly impressed at all times by the co-ordination and rhythm with which each and every usher performed. All ushers were trained under the supervision of the experienced officers, who taught them the proper procedure for ushering and emphasized the importance of co-operation, co-ordination, and courtesy.

In January the Usher Corps sponsored the popular talent show, a complete sellout, and from the proceeds contributed fifty dollars to the Student-Aid Fund, a fund established and supported by the Usher Corps.

"I REMEMBER MAMA"

"MR. HYDE TELLS A STORY"

James Van Deluyster, John Hall, Gwen Janz, Yvonne Staven, Nils Holme, Dolores Stachurski
Front: Marian Martin, Janet Pokorny

Applause stamped "Success!" on Bay View's Senior Class Play, "I Remember Mama." Along with the many thrills of this production was the thrill of having our Norwegian exchange student Nils Holme help the cast develop a Norwegian accent and perform personally in the part of Papa Hanson, the hard-working, pink-cheeked head of the family.

The play, based on the best seller "Mama's Bank Account," offered many lively and touching scenes. Katrin narrated the story and took her audience through the years of her youth, and through the stirring incidents of Uncle Chris's death and "Uncle" Elizabeth's sickness. The Humorous side was portrayed by the three aunts and Mr. Torkelson, the hilarious little man wearing an ill-fitting 1910 suit.

And, of course, there was Mama, who, with love and understanding, made us all appreciate the value of a generous family spirit. Coach: Mrs. Breitling.

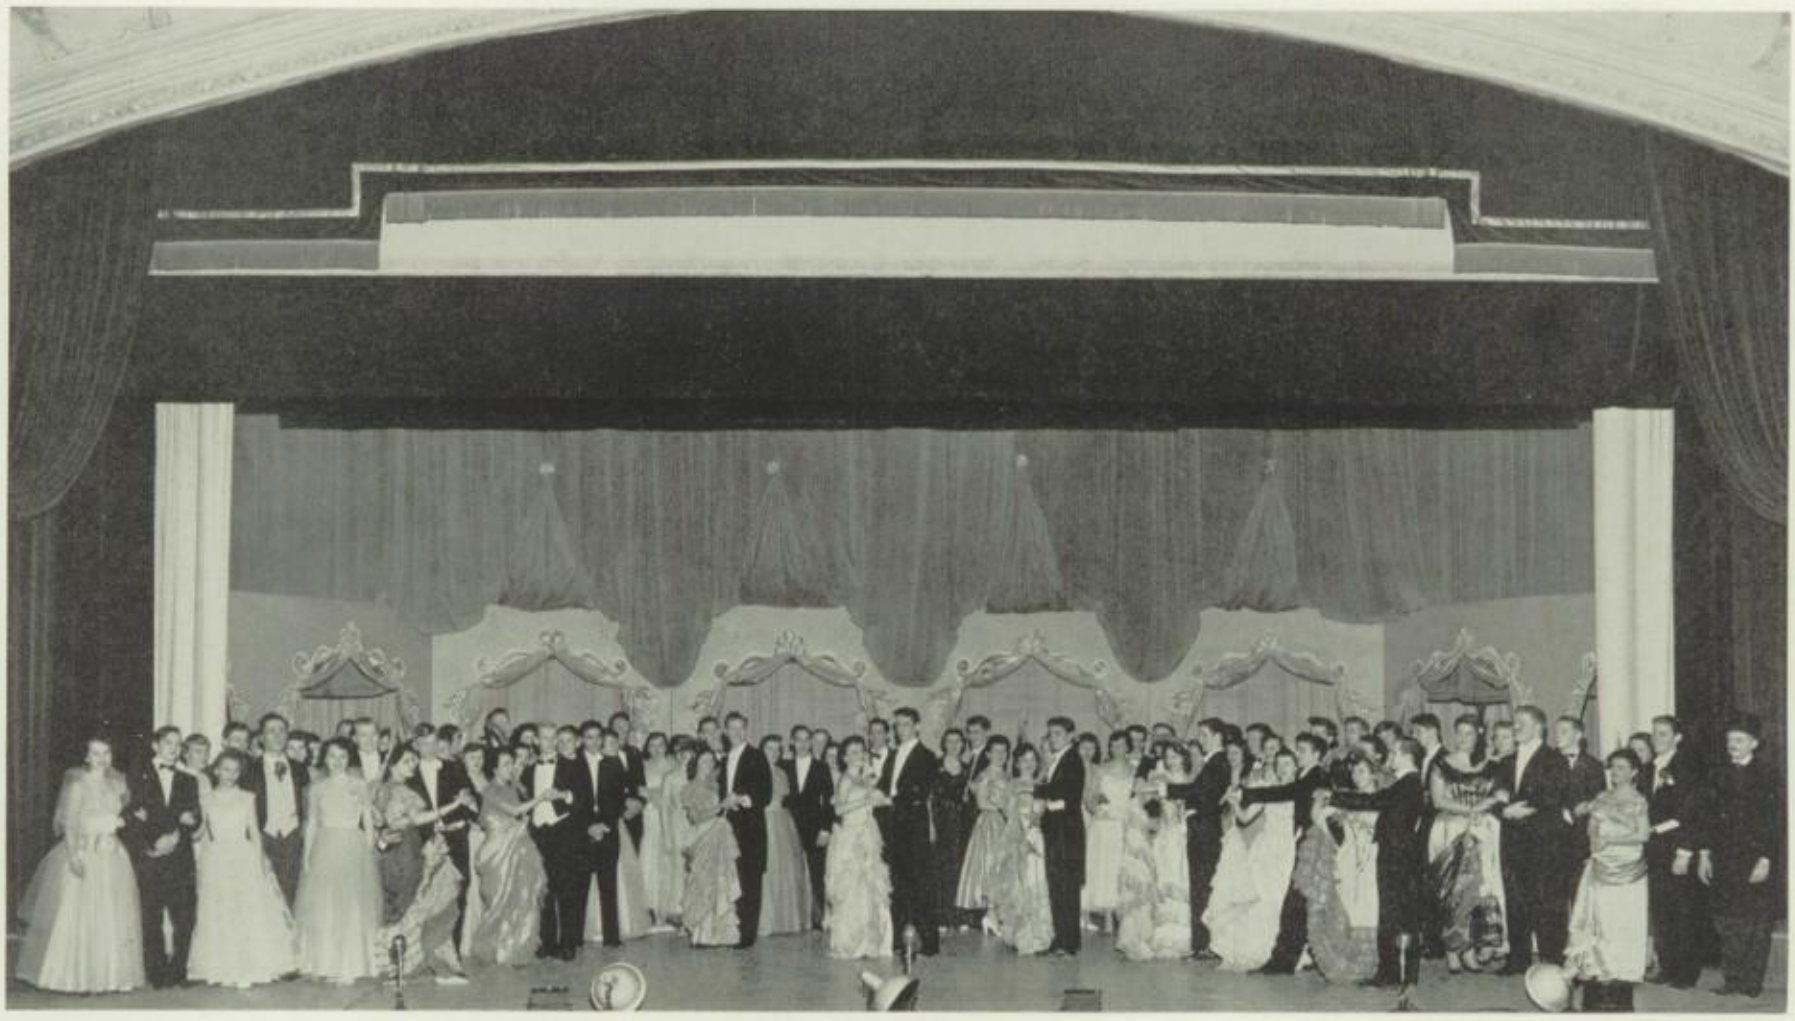
"WHERE'S CHARLEY?"



THE CAST

Where's Charley? He's deep in the hearts of all Milwaukeeans who were fortunate enough to get tickets for this Broadway smash hit, never before presented on a school stage. "When's Charley Coming Home?" sounded through the corridors from November to February 26 and 27, and the building is still trembling with the applause and spirit of the show. Never has a cast worked harder. Never has a cast achieved greater success, for they also performed for the National Convention of Secondary School Principals at the Milwaukee Vocational School. The principals' unanimous reaction was "Terrific!"

Highlights included the Ashmolean Band in black-light, a can-can whirl of colorful effects, the romantic song "Secret Love," a Brazilian dance, and audience participation in "Once In Love With Amy." Terrific! All of it!

BAND

THE DANCE BAND

The band members in their red and black uniforms with a trim of gold braid performed as proudly as ever at each football game and rally, under the direction of Mr. Merl Williams. Game half-times were animated by many unusual drills. Students will remember with a chuckle the time the band, wearing little white tails, did the bunny hop.

The Music Festival in May gave the band a wide range of opportunities. The trombone trio, John Liebenstein, Tom Haefner, and James Hanke, presented the novel "Two Pair of Slippers." An unusual classical bassoon solo, "Allegro Spirituoso," by Vincent Pizzi, was played by Arline Franza. Highlighting the classical program was the soothing yet rousing "Symphony in E Flat," by Camille Saint-Saens. In a Latin American mood, "Rumbalita" was played, followed by "Men of Music," which concluded the band presentations.

Bay View is very proud of its "precision" band, which has straightened both shoulders and spirit of many a "sagging" Viewite.

THE ORCHESTRA

SOLOISTS

John Liebenstein, June Oelschlaeger, James Hanke, Thomas Haefner, Arlene Franza

Conductor Mr. Ray Dietrich so effectively developed Bay View's string players that many of them were chosen to play in groups and as soloists for conventions and clubs in the city. This year Milwaukee's all-city organizations claimed fourteen orchestra members to play in a city-wide symphonic orchestra which performed at the convention of the state teachers and the national secondary principals.

Haydn's "Seventh Smyphony in C Major" headed the classical numbers presented at the spring Music Festival. "Komm Süsser Tod," by Bach, provided a slow moving, serious number; and June Oelschlaeger's rendition of Mozart's "Piano Concerto in D Minor" climaxed the classical group.

"The Comedian's Gallop" was a new experience for Bay View audiences, since it is a number by Kabalesky, one of the world's eccentric contemporary composers. The colorful number "Street Scene" concluded the orchestral selections.

In the 1954 operetta "Where's Charley?" the orchestra did the tremendous job of playing all the music with such success that many in the auditorium wondered whether a professional orchestra had been hired. Greig's "Song of Norway" and "The Last Spring" provided the Norwegian atmosphere for "I Remember Mama," and "March Carnivalesque" and "Blue Moon" were between-act numbers.

Such a repertoire of music has given Bay View's orchestra high musical acclaim for '53-'54.

ATHLETICS

THE VARSITY

Many football fans, whether they be students, teachers, or outsiders, have been too quick in saying that the 1953 Redcat football season was just another season. It wasn't! The Cats under their second year of head coach Mr. Mierzwa, and assistants Mr. Callahan and Mr. Nader, displayed a combination of football "savvy," fortitude, and an abundance of winning spirit. Although outweighed by every opponent, the Mierzwa-men chalked up the second best-winning season in the history of the game here at Bay View. By compiling a six-win, two-loss record, the Cats tied with Boys' Tech for third place in the conference, only one game behind co-champions Pulaski and Washington.

The Redcats began their winning ways by defeating a speedy Lincoln team, 13-0. The running combination of Tuler and Van Lanen was too much for the Comets. An early 14-0 half-time lead over a much-improved Juneau eleven enabled the Cats to coast through the second half and into another victory.

The next Redcat victory came in the North game with a score 34-6. Don Tuler, leading scorer on the team, displayed a fine versatility by scoring three touchdowns.

THE COACHES

Coaches: Kaczmarek, Mierzwa, Callahan, Nader

FOOTBALL

A strong and also undefeated Tech squad was next to take the field against the Redcats. A long touchdown-pass led the Tech-men to a 7-0 victory. Bouncing back from defeat at the hands of Tech, the Mierzwa-men swamped a favored West eleven, 26-6.

Pulaski, Bay View's traditional rival, displayed a well-balanced attack as they handed the Redcats their second and last defeat of the season, 12-0. As in the West game, it was Roger "Pogo" Harris's passing and receiving which led the Cats to victory. This time Rufus King was the victim as Bay View's gridmen pounded out a 19-13 victory.

Many fans will remember the exciting South game, for South was only two yards and one play from beating our Redcats as the final gun sounded. It was Harris's touchdown-pass to Keeling and Ranzinger's extra point which provided Bay View with a 7-6 win. Two Cats, tackle Gary Ranzinger and guard Harry Tann, were selected to the Milwaukee Journal all-city team.

And so the curtain descended on a job well done by our own Redcat Gridmen, their motto being "A fighter never quits; a quitter never fights."

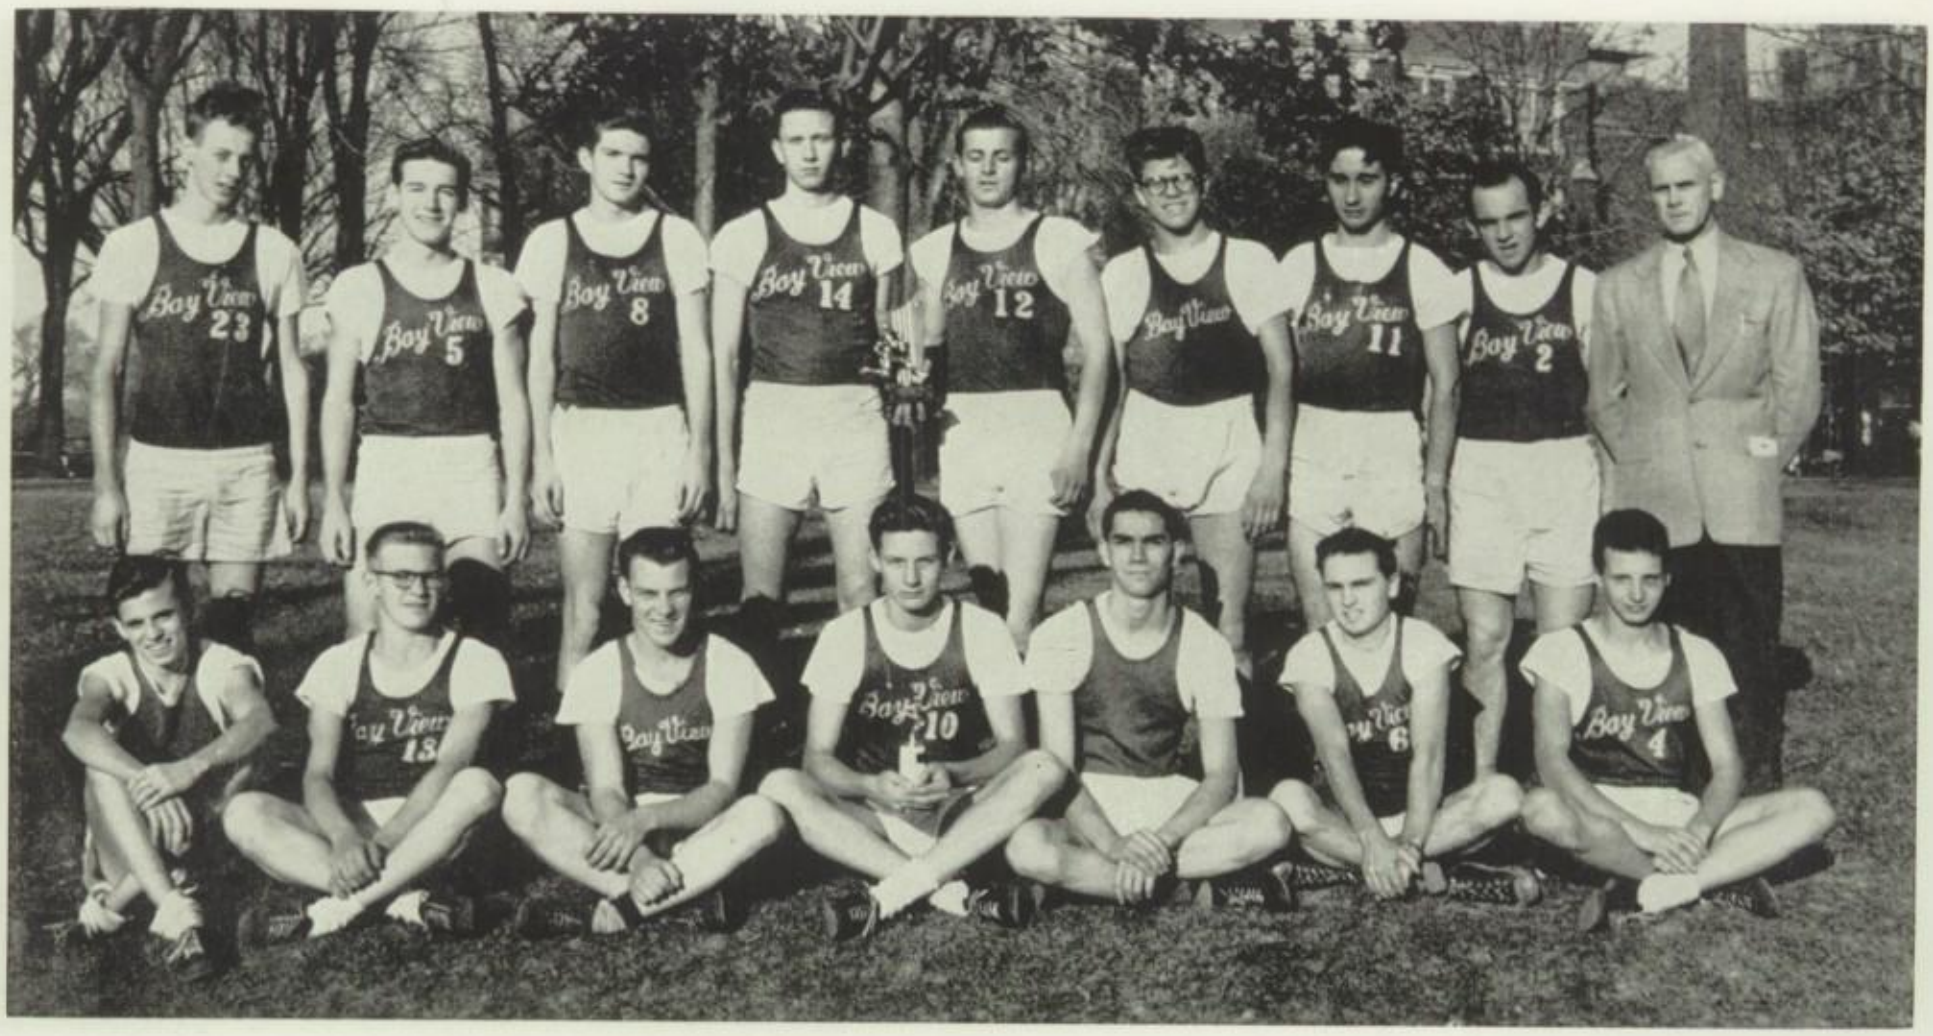
CROSS COUNTRY



THE TEAM

The cross country team of 1953 completed the season with a record which added another string of victories to Coach Matthei's cumulative file. After decisive victories over Lincoln, 23-33, in a dual meet, and Pulaski and Juneau in a triangular meet, the harriers repeated their 1952 victory over Hartford, 17-40, thus extending their dual meet record to 33 consecutive wins since 1946. The Mattheimen easily retained the South Side Championship by out-classing runner-up South Division, 35-41. Richard Rutzen took the individual title, running the 2.2 mile course in 11:04.5. Led by Co-Captains Dale Wiegert and Richard Rutzen, the thinclads succeeded in winning the Midwest Championship for the fourth time, by placing five runners within the first 22. They placed as follows: Dale Weigert, 3rd; Richard Rutzen, 7th; Rolf Christiansen, 15th; Robert Heule, 17th; and Gary Rickard, 22nd.

Bay View, although showing great improvement over last year's performance, had to be satisfied again with second place in the City Meet which was won by a powerful Washington squad. The B-team, led by Robert Fons, also had a successful season topping it off by taking a third in the Midwest Meet and an easy second in the City Meet. Robert Fons was the individual winner in both these meets, finishing far ahead of his competition.

BASKETBALL

THE VARSITY

Bay View's varsity Redcat basketball squad ended its 1953-'54 season with a 2-9 record, falling to tenth place in the circuit standings.

The varsity cagers displayed aggressiveness in all conference games as well as in non-league games, but lacked the scoring punch to come out from behind, playing two sophomores, three juniors, and but one senior as Coach Nader's regulars.

Boys' Tech defeated the Cats in the opening game of the season, but the Red and Black hoopsters punched out wins over Custer and King before losing to Washington. The Redcats hit a losing streak and dropped their remaining seven games, but in four of these tilts the decisions could have been different if their shooting had been better.

The frosh-soph under Coach Dietzman displayed real skill and gained second place in their division, with sixteen wins, three losses.

This year the Redcats splashed their way to a surprisingly strong finish, ending the season with a 9-3 won-lost record. The Cats conquered Washington, 50-33; North, 49-34; South, 50-33; East, 57-26; and Lincoln, 54-29; losing only to Pulaski and Tech, 35-48 and 32-51 respectively.

In non-conference meets, the record was 4-1, with defeats for West Milwaukee, 52-31 and 44-39; and Cudahy, 57-26 and 62-21; and a one-point heartbreaker-loss to Kenosha, 41-42.

Besides the strong finish, a third was taken in the City Relays and a sixth in the annual City Meet, placing Bob Kotlowski fifth in the 200-yard free style and second in the 200-yard free-style relay. The team was weakened in mid-year by the graduation of three major letter winners. The team is expected to do just as well next year with the returning strength of twelve major letter winners.

In May of 1953, too late for publication, the track team won its twenty-first consecutive dual meet against Lincoln, 77 - 36; beat South Division, 71 - 42; won the South Side Track Championship with 78 points against Tech, South, and Pulaski; and for the ninth time in eleven years won the South Side Sectional Relay Championship beating Tech, Pulaski, South, Juneau, and Lincoln, scoring 86 points and receiving a beautiful emblematic trophy. The half-mile relay team set a new record of 1:33.3, which remained the best high-school time in the state until the state meet was held.

Other highlights of the season included Tom Laude winning the City Championship in the high hurdles, Don Cinkosky tying the track record of 10.3 in the 100-yard dash and placing third in the city 200-yard dash, Al Keeling and Ken Cox taking fourth and fifth in the city 440-yard dash, and the relay team of Harry Tann, Don Tuler, Robert Hendrykowski, and Don Cinkosky, placing third in the city championship.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

In the fall, girls of all grade levels were invited to participate in the annual tennis tournament. The singles tournament was won by Janet Knuth; and the doubles tournament, by Ingrid Koebernik and Janet Knuth. As the days grew shorter, hockey became the favorite sport. Teams were chosen for the enjoyment of competition, but no tournament was held.

With the arrival of winter, the rings, horses, and parallel bars had good workouts during tumbling and apparatus sessions. Badminton and basketball took over in mid-winter and bowling was popular during both semesters. The basketball "champs" included captain Barbara Hayden and her "Scintillating Six." The pool was in constant use as Swim Clubs practiced for the Western water ballet, "Water-Roundup." A rollicking swim meet was scheduled for semester two, and the pool was frequently open to the tadpoles and recreational swimmers.

The G.A.A. Council assisted in the development of all extra-curricular activities, and also sponsored ping pong and shuffle board in the gym as noon-hour activities. Coaches: Miss Statz, Chairman; Mrs. Sickert, Miss Stock.

CLASS NOTES

The 1950 Oracle shows row on row of wide-eyed faces above fresh, starched blouses and unfamiliar bow-ties. Those earnest young people were to produce much fine work in the four years to follow. Some of those hands clenched nervously at the decisive moment when the photographer's flash flared were to cut through the water in the swimming pool with knife-like speed, pen pieces of excellent writing, run nimbly over the keys of the concert Knabe, and wield a paintbrush in the busy room of the art department.

As the years skipped by with the exuberant speed of the beating of youthful hearts, the youngsters of 1950 changed, growing in height, size, and mind. And as they left behind them the gaiety and the problems of their Freshman days, they began to take their place in Bay View, becoming prominent in a wide variety of activities from athletics to theatrical productions, both on stage and backstage.

The qualities that make for leadership became evident, and these combined with popularity in the eyes of their fellow students, brought five students the honor of membership in the class commission. This group, aided by the suggestions of their friends and the faculty advisors, collected class dues, and chose the color of caps and gowns, and planned the exciting details of the proud occasion, their graduation from Bay View High School.

CLASS NOTES

In the breath of autumn breezes in the memorable September of 1950, they first entered the auditorium of Bay View with mingled anticipation and just a hint of apprehension.

With grim determination they faced a semester of proffered bubbler passes and algebra shoes and the taunting cries of "Freshie," which greeted them almost daily in the halls.

But the weeks and months sped by with astonishing speed and soon they'd left behind them that hated label and bore the prouder title of Freshmen.

As they slipped into various niches of achievement, Bay View became aware of her promising new writers, gifted artists, and talented singers and dancers endowed with a flair for the dramatic.

At last those same youngsters who had filed into the auditorium just four short years ago clutching fresh notebooks and pencil cases stood on the stage.

As the last strains of the stirring Pomp and Circumstance march died away, memories of everything from homecoming parades to Bay View's first semi-formal dance, "Stardreams," filled their minds and hearts.

It was with both joy and sadness that they accepted their diplomas, and warm handshakes, from Dr. Korn on commencement night.

where are the new frontiers?

...and what about the new worlds to conquer?

Every now and then you hear someone asking questions like these.

The people of Allis-Chalmers can give you some of the answers. They are looking for new and peaceful uses for the atom and building easier-to-use, more productive machinery for the farm . . . for industry . . . for earth movers . . . for the electric light and power companies.

At Allis-Chalmers this exciting search never ends. You find restless minds and busy hands fashioning the tools of a brighter tomorrow.

Yes, we are truly optimistic about the future. Because of this, we are constantly interested in fresh, vigorous, imaginative young minds.

We believe that a partnership of inquisitive youth teamed with knowledge rooted in experience is the best way to shape the wonderful things that can come. Your school training helps open the door to the unexplored future.

. . . the mark of an outstanding motor

The familiar L. A. that identifies each motor built by The Louis Allis Co. is more than a mere trademark. These two distinctive strokes formed the signed initials of Louis Allis—our founder and first president. He used them to signify approval on the many matters that crossed his desk each day.

To us these initials on our product symbolize a challenge—a challenge to continue building our motors to the high standards of quality and performance established by Louis Allis more than 50 years ago. To you they mean sound design, rugged construction, and ample safety factor for long life and dependability—all the things you want in electric motors.

You can't go wrong when the motor for your job carries the famous L. A. Trade-mark. Always look for it.
